BODY'S SIXTH OCEAN TRIP.

Strange Events Have Kept Dead Woman Traveling Back and Forth.

LONDON.—The strange story of an unburied body which is about to start on its sixth trip across the Atlantic is told by the Daily Telegraph's Berlin correspondent. A woman died in the United States last summer. Her newly married daughter and her son-in-law determined to inter the body in the mother's native place, Breslau. The cemetery authorities there demanded $1,250 for burial in the family vault, and, regarding the charge exorbitant, the daughter decided to take the body back to America.

Upon arriving at New York, however, she found awaiting her a letter to the effect that the controllers of the cemetery were prepared to reduce the price of a grave, whereupon she and her husband forthwith returned with the body to Breslau. There fresh differences of opinion arose, and, as there appeared to be no chance of agreement, the mother's body once more was transported to New York.

Shortly after this the daughter and her husband became tired of the land of their adoption and made up their minds to repatriate themselves in Germany. Accordingly they packed up their personal belongings and, with the body of the mother, once more appeared in Breslau. Meanwhile the difficulty with the proprietors of the cemetery was composed, and at last the much traveled body was consigned to the tomb. But even now it is not to be left in peace. The restless couple decided that after all the new world was better than the old and resolved to recross the Atlantic once more, taking with them the body of the mother.

But the cemetery authorities refused to surrender the body, so the daughter took the case before the law courts. The first decision given was against her, but now, on appeal, she has obtained an order that her mother's body be delivered to her.

Colonel Says Suit Will Not Deter Him

Oyster Bay, N. Y.—The reply of Colonel Roosevelt to the $50,000 libel suit of William Barnes, Jr., was an attack on the republican state chairman and a promise to help the suit forward. Colonel Roosevelt said he would not be deterred from attacking Mr. Barnes by the suit, but on the contrary would assail him the harder. He expressed the hope that he would have the opportunity to take the stand against Mr. Barnes before election.
